Pre-Seminary Graduates

The Department of Preseminary Studies is designed to provide an adequate foundation for further graduate ministerial programs. In addition to the basic biblical and general studies courses required of all majors, the Preseminary major includes more course work in philosophy, sociology, and other general studies, as well as three years of Greek.

And Missionary Nursing

Objectives of the Missions Department are to aid the student in developing a theology of missions, to acquaint him with history and methods of church planting and growth, to give him an appreciation for non-Western cultures as a basis for cross-cultural communication, to explore the necessity and meaning of indigenous church principles, to help him develop essential skills, to gain an understanding of the proper relationships that should exist between the missionary and his church, mission group, and the people whom he serves, and to provide pastors who do not serve as missionaries with a basis for participation in the mission of their churches.

*The nurses pictured above are Candace Snyder, Mary Hamilton, and Rachel Boehm.

*The 5-year missionary nursing program is made possible through the co-operation of Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing.

Graduates In Christian Education

A major in Christian Education is designed to prepare the graduate to serve in a lay or vocational capacity in the local church. It helps the student to develop a personal philosophy of Christian education built on scriptural and historic study; to develop an understanding of the church and home; and to gain a sensitivity and ability to communicate God's Word.

Graduates in Education

A degree in the area of Teacher Education will enable the graduate to teach in Christian, public, and parochial elementary schools. Objectives of the department are to assist the student in gaining a general understanding of the basic areas of education, to train efficient leaders and teachers for the church, to form an attitude toward teaching as a Christian vocation, to gain basic skills in teaching, to qualify the student for state certification, and to provide basic preparation for graduate study in education.

"Amahl And The Night Visitors"

This opera by Gian-Carlo Menotti carries the story of Amahl, a poor, dreamy, crippled boy, whose life is changed when he and his widowed mother receive a visit from the Magi, who are on their way to give gifts to the Christ child.

The cast is as follows: Amahl, Deb Springer; Amahl's Mother, Jeanie Blaes; King Kasper, Dennis Kesler; King Melchoir, Greg Tatum; King Balthazar, William Johnson; Page, Allen Shaw.

The production was directed by Jay Platte. Choral Union and Orchestra provided the music.

HIS Company Completes First Year

HIS Company is a Christian Service traveling team. The members for its first year were Jon Caskey, Sue Curtis, Karen Gerig, Susan Kintner, Skip Kite, and Jonathon Spyker. Miss Sonja Strahm is founder and director. The programs this year consisted of two plays, "But, Lord . . . !" and "Woodshed," plus some dramatic readings on self-concept. The first act of the 45-minute drama "But, Lord . . . !" was written by Miss Strahm. Act II was co-written with the cast. All costuming, make-up, and stage settings were done by the cast.

But, Lord . . .

Above: Putting on makeup for Act II transforms Jon Spyker, Sue Curtis, and Susan Kintner into the spirits of Doubt, Indifference, and false Contentment. Right: In Act II the still, small voice (Karen Gerig) tells Joe Nawh (Jon Caskey) to remember what God says.

"The Woodshed"

"Woodshed," a 40-minute drama by L. E. Preston, represents, as its title suggests, a form of punishment. An assortment of people are "prisoners" of their own guilt and frustration. Only when each repents and faces the future with strength does the door of the woodshed "prison" open in personal release.

HIS Company Goes To Florida

HIS Company, as one member facetiously remarked, "Suffered for the Lord" in Florida. The schedule had performances nightly plus a performance at a Christian school where the troupe gave tips to upcoming actors.

As a C.S. group, HIS Company is a different but effective form of communicating the truth of Jesus Christ and His principles.

Florida was a good experience and we enjoyed meeting new people. We also had a chance to really get to know each other.

Left: HIS COMPANY was directed by Sonja Strahm. The members are (from left to right) Karen Gerig, Skip Kite, Jon Caskey, Susan Kintner, Sue Curtis, and Jonathon Spyker. They had Hebrews 12:28 as their verse: "Therefore, since we receive a kingdom which cannot be shaken, let us show gratitude, by which we may offer to God an acceptable service with reverence and awe." (NASB)

In their C.S. experiences, students are involved in sharing their love for Christ and their concern for others in a variety of Christian-service opportunities supplied by 90 some churches and church-related organizations in the Fort Wayne area.

Chapels for the year covered a wide range of subjects and involved many speakers and musical groups. Multi-media presentations were given on the development of a butterfly (analogous to the Christian life), and on the work of the master Potter. Various faculty members presented the Community Lifestyle series and a series of messages on the Psalms, and on qualities such as patience and peace. Person to Person was a new event put together by Joy Gerig and Russ Rogers, designed to help students become better acquainted with members of the family at BC. SMF gave students the opportunity to gain new insights on missions; and music chapels gave members of the BC family a chance to lift their voices together in praise to the Lord. Worthy students, faculty, and staff were presented with awards and scholarships. The Christian Service Department added its contribution with Coaching Classes and a concert by the Christian Service Musical Groups. Some of the most treasured times with the family were the testimony chapels when students could share items of prayer and praise. Wednesday's chapels were reserved for Student Services and Student Association to present "Thirty Minutes," a program intended to bring the student up to date on matters concerning campus life. Altogether, these chapels helped to bring a spiritual uplift into the day.

April Spiritual Emphasis

"Meet the WORD in words . . .
Let the WORD in words meet you."

"When we walk in the Lord's presence, everything we see hear touch
or taste
reminds us of Him."

H. Nouwen

I enjoy finding ways to tell God I love Him.

I use the hymn book alone with God, not just in church.

In my old rocking chair I meet God in the morning.

I keep a journal.

I sometimes go into the darkened chapel to play the drums, and God is my audience.

Spring Semester S.E.

Dr. James (Jimmy) DiRaddo was the Staley Distinguished Scholar for the lecture series as well as being the spring Spiritual Emphasis speaker. He spoke frankly with us, giving help in the areas of personhood, relationships, sexual identity, and adjustment. We were sorry to see him rush away to avoid the blizzard.

Beloved, I can never use the word boring about devotions.

I visualize the actions of Jesus and use my five senses to praise Him.

The Hollow (the refurbished KK) is a quiet place to talk with a friend or two under subdued lights and relax in pleasant surroundings. The scores of posters invite one to gaze a while and meditate. The name itself is made clear by the picture over the fireplace. The outstretched hands remind one that we are safe in the hollow of God's hand.

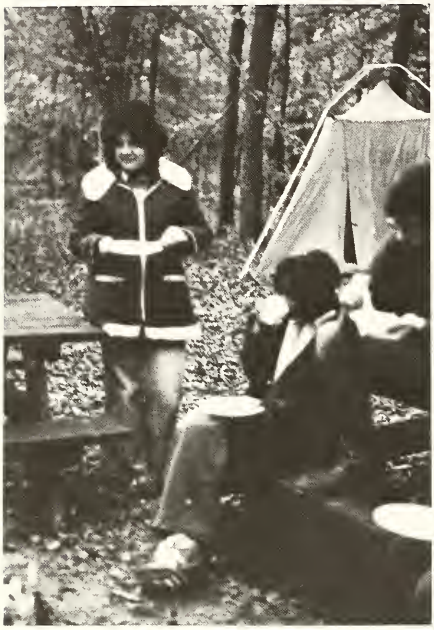
The Junior Class Retreat

Right: Geff, Mark, and Will wonder if Anne knows the way.



A four hour ride to southern Indiana, Mr. Snyder setting up a tent, hamburgers on an open grill . . . what does it mean but the Junior Class Retreat. The juniors arrived Friday evening for a time of relaxation by the fire before bed. It was a dark quiet evening with a few songs, mostly small talk and a chance to get to know a fellow junior better. Then it was to bed and very soon morning would arrive which meant that the cave was waiting to be explored—five hours of spelunking!

Celebrating The New Schultz Lounge

The new lounge is not only beautiful but represents the triumph of co-operative effort. The Women's Auxiliary provided money for the wood floor. The men of Schultz put it in in three days. The men also painted the walls, stained the paneling, and recovered posts. Marvin Miller of Nappanee, supplied the rug. The Women's Auxiliary bought the furniture.

Youth Conference '79

Terry White (chairman) presents his committee.

Y.C. Steering Committee

Below: Dr. Wes Gerig and Grant Hoatson (advisers), Jim Chupp (art), Ron Mann (technical), Gary Livengood (music), Terry White (chairman), Larry Rogers (treasurer), Miss Sharon Jacobsen (adviser), Ruth Lehman (program), Nancy Raney (assistant chairman), Ruth Ann Blosser (publicity).

I've always wanted to know what it would be like, The Youth Conference, I mean. Upperclassmen and even freshmen talked about past Youth Conferences, their faces lit up in anticipation. This year's conference was guided by Terry White (chairman) and Nancy Raney (assistant chairman), with the advisory help of Sharon Jacobsen, Dr. Wes Gerig and Dr. Hoatson. Together these people prepared the budget, formed and supervised twenty committees, chose the dates, and generally put the whole conference together. They also came up with the theme, "On Track," inspired by Proverbs 3:6: "In all you do put God first, and He will direct you . . ."

Set in a weekend in April, but planned for almost as far back as the previous summer, it highlights the spring semester. Yet one is never aware of the conference till the few weeks before it actually takes place.

In chapel a spiritual-emphasis service prepares us for the oncoming weekend. A taste of the Conference comes in the form of the theme song, "On Track," the words and music of which were composed by Craig Bennett and Keith Wong. The line of eight vocalists were backed by the percussion and brass sections. Pretty professional, huh?

. . . did you know Alex is doing "King Tut"? . . . Yeah? . . . Hos told me that the "Just-a-Little-While Quartet" will be doing their thing at the Saturday morning concert . . . What are you going to be doing Tuck? . . . Me and John are going to be your basic bell hops . . . over at Bethany . . . really! Do you need help? . . . No sweat. Me and Tuck can handle it . . . Hey, Shermie, did you know that Ronnie's sister is coming? . . . Uh huh . . .

And so the weeks passed until finally we were there—a time when days of hard work and preparation were to come into fruition. There were days of practices, late nights, excused classes, overtime work in the cafeteria, clean-up drives, committee meetings, prayer times and a host of other preparations.

Friday afternoon came and the kids came—there were about five hundred of them. Everything went on with clock-like precision. The "engineer," or rather the speaker, was Carl Nelson, graduate of Wheaton and Fuller, present Regional Director in the Mid-South with Young Life and also the author of the book Just the Greatest. The C.C. music groups and the drama troupe were at their best. The music concerts left everyone wishing for more. Especially moving was the "Holy, Holy, Holy" as sung by the men on campus under Russ's direction. "Derailing" at South Campus on Saturday afternoon was a chilly affair, but the guests and hosts braved the cold to get in a time of fun with games, races, acts, and other things. Sandy and her crew of the cafeteria served as best they could under pressure and came out on top.

"Locomotion" our very own comedy program was a riot. The services on Friday and Saturday nights, and the Sunday school with Dr. Hughes followed by the service in chapel were attended with reverence. It was real . . .

Banquet Features Old Film:

"The Vine of God's Own Planting"

The Alumni Banquet held May 11 in the Fellowship Hall of the First Missionary Church, was a great time of reunion, song, and recognition of the significance of people past and present in the life of the college. Ron Hege emceed and kept things moving. The special music of Lee and Joan Gerig highlighted the evening. Alumni Awards for service to the church and community while still a student went to seniors Cathy Paules, MacArthur Wagstaff, and Rick Herman.

Baccalaureate Becomes A Chapel Service

The final chapel for the 1978-79 school year was full of "pomp and circumstance" with the academic robes swishing and the flags flying down the aisles. The faculty and graduates marched in while the organ played Handel. The memorable address given by Professor Arlan J. Birkey entitled "HIS Survival Kit for Trying Times" was built on an acrostic: H (Humility), I (Integrity), S (Stability). The text was I Peter 5: 1-11.

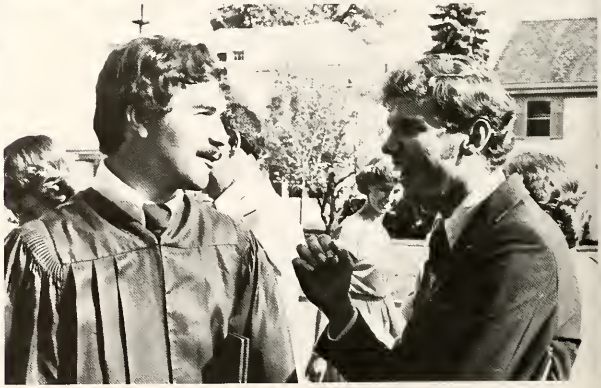
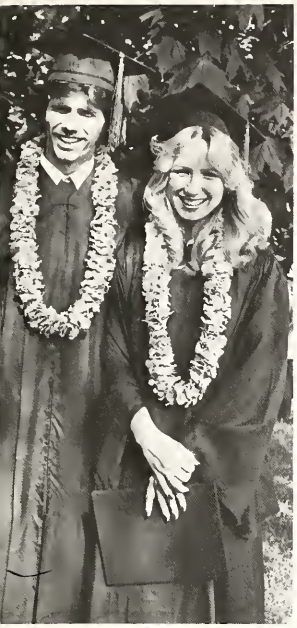
A Time For Rejoicing Together



And Then We Scatter



We gave our time and skill to make a book. We hope it will help us all remember the richness of the year God gave us together and cause us to give back praise to Him.

"Gratitude is a joyful memory."
